Reading for Pleasure

Book Awards

Schools Library Services offer your pupils an up-to-date and constantly changing choice of books which cater for all interests and abilities to encourage children to read for pleasure.

Many Schools Library Services aim to encourage children to experience a love of books by working together with schools on national events such as World Book Day and Carnegie / Greenaway Shadowing.

Some services run their own local Book Awards where pupils can read and discuss popular titles, have contact with other schools, meet up with authors and vote for their favourite titles.

Author Visits

A Schools Library Service can offer support in setting up and running a school reading group and is in touch with authors and publishers so can advise you on who would work well for an event in your school.

"Very inspiring, the children got a lot out of it."
Teacher, Gainsborough Primary

"Really great opportunity for pupils to get up close and personal with real authors." Librarian, Fairlop Primary
